Part Two

Law Enforcement Jurisdiction

Article 9

The law applicable at the time of the crime shall apply. However, if a law more favorable to the accused issued after the commitment of the crime and prior to rendering a final judgment, such law shall apply rather than other laws. If the judgment becomes final, and a law is issued that makes the act or omission from the act is not punishable, the execution of the judgment shall cease, and its criminal implications shall terminate.

If the new law only extenuates the punishment, the court that issued the final judgment, upon the request of the Public Prosecution or the convicted, may reconsider the judged punishment as per the provisions of the new law.

Article 10

With the exception of the provisions of the previous Article, if a law is issued to criminalize an act or omission or to enforce more severe punishment prescribed thereto, and it is temporary or due to exceptional and urgent circumstances, the forfeiture of this temporary period or exceptional and urgent circumstances shall not under any circumstances prejudice the enforcement thereof upon any crime occurring during such period or any sentence previously served as long as the new law does not stipulate to the contrary.

Article 11

The new law shall apply to the continuous, successive or habitual crimes committed prior to its date of enforcement if the crimes continued to be committed during the effective period of this Law.

Article 12

If a new law is issued which amends the provisions of recidivism, or plurality of crimes, the convicting judgments issued prior to its application shall apply.

Article 13

The provisions of this Law shall apply to any person who commits, within the State of Qatar, a crime stipulated therein.

A crime shall be deemed to have been committed within Qatar, if one of the crime constituent acts or if the consequence of that act is realized or is intended to be realized thereof.

Article 14

The provisions of this Law shall be applicable to crimes committed on ships and airplanes registered in, owned by, or flying the flag of the State of Qatar, irrespective of wherever they are located.

Article 15<sup>2</sup>

Without prejudice to the provisions of the agreements and conventions to which the State is a party, the provisions of the Law hereof shall not apply to the crimes perpetrated onboard of foreign ships and plane present in or passing through the territory of the State, except in the following cases:

1. If the effects of the crime extend to the State.
2. If the crime, by nature, involves the State security, disturbs the public safety therein, or breaches common decency or navigation operation in the air space or the territorial sea thereof.
3. If the commander of the ship, Aircraft Commander, or a diplomatic representative of the State the ship flying the flag, or the plane has the nationality thereof requests the help of the Qatari authorities.

4. If the victim or the perpetrator is a Qatari national, or an expatriate holding a valid residence permit in the State at the time of the crime perpetration.

5. If the measures taken by the State concerning the ship or the plane are necessary to combat illicit trafficking in narcotics and psychotropic substances.

Article 16<sup>3</sup>

The provisions of this Law shall apply to:

1. Any person who commits outside the State of Qatar an act which renders him a perpetrator or an accomplice in a crime that has occurred entirely or partially inside the State of Qatar.
2. Any person who commits inside the State of Qatar a crime that makes him a perpetrator or an accomplice in a crime that has occurred entirely or partially outside the State of Qatar and it is punishable by virtue of this Law and the law of the country in which it was committed.
3. Commits outside the State of Qatar or participates in one of the crimes that are directed against the internal or external national security, or the crimes related to bribery, embezzlement, or causing harm to the public funds, or crimes concerning forgery and counterfeit of official documents, government seals, marks, or stamps, or the forgery, counterfeiting or replication of any currency note or coin legally circulating in Qatar , or possessing or distributing these forged, counterfeit, or replicated currencies.

Article 17

The provisions of this Law shall apply to any person who resides in the State after committing, as perpetrator or accomplice, any of the crimes of trafficking in drugs or humans or acts of piracy or international terrorism abroad.

Article 18

Every Qatari citizen, when he is abroad, who commits any act that is considered a felony or a misdemeanor as per the provisions of this Law, shall be punished in pursuance of the provisions thereof when he returns to the State of Qatar when the act is punishable under the law of the country in which the crime was committed.

Article 19

No criminal lawsuit may be filed against any person who committed a crime abroad and has already been acquitted by foreign courts on a criminal charge or has been finally convicted and punished or if the crime has been barred by time.

If the acquittal judgement is issued on a crime set out in item 3 of Article 16 hereof on the basis that the law of the country in which the crime occurred contains no punishment for that crime, the criminal lawsuit may be filed before the courts of State of Qatar.

Article 20

The provisions stipulated in the Law of Juveniles shall be applicable to juveniles who have completed seven years and under the age of sixteen years old.

The death sentence shall not be imposed on a juvenile who is under eighteen years old at the time of committing the crime.

Part Three

The Crime

Chapter One

Types of Crimes

Article 21

Crimes are of three types: felonies; misdemeanors and violations.

The type of crime shall be determined according to the maximum limit of the penalty set out by law.

Article 22

Felonies are crimes punishable by the death sentence, life imprisonment or imprisonment for a period of more than three years.

Unless otherwise stipulated by law, imprisonment for felonies shall not be less than three years.

Article 23<sup>4</sup>

Save as otherwise stipulated by the law, misdemeanors are crimes punishable by imprisonment for a period not more than three years and a fine of more than one thousand Qatari Riyals (QR 1000), or by community-based correction programs or by any of these penalties.

Article 24

Violations are crimes punishable by a fine of no more than one thousand Riyals (QR 1000).

<sup>4</sup> Replaced pursuant to Law No. 23 of 2009.

Article 25

Save as otherwise stipulated by the law, the type of the crime shall not change if the court decides to replace the prescribed punishment thereto with a more mitigated one, whether on grounds of legal excuses or because of discretionary alleviating circumstances.

Chapter Two

Elements of Crimes

First: Material Element

1. The Consummated Crime

Article 26

The material element of a crime is the criminal activity involved in the commitment or omission of an act where such commitment or omission is criminalized by the law.

Article 27

A person shall not be responsible for a crime that did not result from his criminal act. However, a person shall be responsible for a crime even if, together with his criminal act, some other prior, contemporaneous or subsequent cause, whenever this cause is expected in the ordinary course of events, played a part in its commission.

If that cause alone is sufficient in itself to cause the result of the crime, the person shall only be responsible for the act he has actually committed.

2. Attempt

Article 28

The attempt is the starting of an act intending to commit a felony or misdemeanor, which is prevented or frustrated for reasons not relating to the intentions of the perpetrator.

Save as otherwise stipulated by the law, the mere intention to commit a felony or a misdemeanor or acts in preparation thereof shall not be deemed as attempting.

Article 29

Unless otherwise provided for in the law, attempt to commit a felony shall be punishable by the following penalties:

1. Life imprisonment, if the punishment prescribed for the felony is a death sentence.

2. Term imprisonment of no more than fifteen years and not less than five years, if the penalty prescribed for the felony is life imprisonment .
3. Imprisonment for a period not exceeding half the maximum limit prescribed for the consummated felony, if the punishment of the felony is imprisonment.

Article 30

The law shall specify the misdemeanors in which the attempt is punishable by law as well as the penalty for such an attempt.

Article 31

The provisions governing secondary punishments prescribed for the consummated crime shall apply to the attempt.

Second: Mental Element

Article 32

The mental element of the crime is composed of the intention or error.

The intention is present when the will of the perpetrator is to commit or omit an act, in order to produce a result punishable by law.

The error occurs whenever the criminal result is achieved as a result of an error on the part of the perpetrator, whether such error is due to negligence, carelessness, non-precaution, recklessness, imprudence, or non-compliance with the laws or regulations.

The perpetrator shall be responsible for the crime whether it was committed deliberately or by error unless the law expressly provides for intention.

Article 33

The criminal intention is deemed to have been exceeded when the intention of the perpetrator was to produce a result less severe than that produced and which he did not intend.

Article 34

Ignorance of the law is not justification.

Ignorance of the crime provision or the wrong interpretation thereof shall not deny the criminal intention.

Article 35

Unless otherwise set out by law, the motive for committing a crime is not taken into consideration.

Article 36

If a crime is committed due to an error of fact, the responsibility of the perpetrator shall be determined on the basis of the facts that he believed them to be if they were to negate or reduce his liability, provided that his belief is based on reasonable grounds.

In case the error that makes the perpetrator believes his non-liability is due to his negligence or incaution, he shall be responsible for a non-premeditated crime, should the law punishment of this crime as such.

Article 37

Except for ministries, other governmental bodies and public authorities and institutions, the legal person shall be criminally responsible for the crimes committed by its representatives, managers, and agents acting on its behalf or in its name, and it shall not be allowed to judge it except by a fine, and applicable provisions from the secondary penalties stipulated by law; if the law stipulates a principal penalty other than the fine, then the penalty shall be limited to a fine, the maximum limit of which shall not be more than five hundred thousand Riyals (QR 500,000).

This shall not negate the punishment of the perpetrator in person with the appropriate penalty set out in the law.

Chapter Three

Complicity

Article 38

A perpetrator is one who:

- 1- Commits a crime by himself or with another.
- 2- Commits on purpose an act constituting the crime, should it consist of several acts.
- 3- Acts as accomplice in the commitment of the crime and be present during its execution.
- 4- Uses another person by any means to execute the elements of the crime, where the latter is considered non-responsible for any reason.

Article 39

The following shall be deemed as an accomplice:

1. Any person who abets the commission of a crime which occurs as a consequence of such abetting.
2. Any person who agrees with another on the commission of a crime which occurs as a result of such agreement.

3. Any person who knowingly gives the perpetrator weapon, machines, or any other thing used in committing the crime or helped him in any other way in the works preparing, facilitating or completing its commitment.

Article 40

Unless otherwise stipulated by the law, any person who participates in the commission of a crime shall be punishable by the penalty prescribed for that crime.

Article 41

Where an accomplice is not subject to the punishment on the grounds of one of the causes of permissibility, or for the lack of criminal intent or for other particular reasons related thereto, the other accomplices shall not benefit therefrom.

Article 42

If there are material circumstances in the crime that would by their nature aggravate or extenuate the penalty, they shall affect all participants to the crime, principal or accessory, whether they are aware of those circumstances or not.

If there are personal circumstances which would change the description of the crime, they shall not affect any person other than the person concerned, unless that other person is aware of them.

Any other circumstance shall only affect the person concerned, whether or not it is aggravating or extenuating.

Article 43

If there are personal excuses exempting from or relieving the penalty to a crime, whether as perpetrator or accomplice, then it shall affect only the person concerned.

Material excuses that exempt a person involved in a crime from the penalty or extenuating that penalty shall apply to any person who participated in the crime, whether as perpetrator or accomplice.

Article 44

If the characterization of the crime or the penalty changes according to the intent of the perpetrator or his knowledge of circumstances thereof, the accomplices in the crime, whether perpetrator or accomplice shall be punished according to their intent or knowledge.

Article 45

A person involved in a crime, whether as perpetrator or accomplice, shall be punished by the punishment for the crime that has actually been committed though such a crime is not the one he did not intend to commit, as long as the crime that is committed is the probable consequence of his participation in it

Article 46

1. If a person agrees with any other person(s) that a course of conduct shall be pursued which, if the agreement is carried out in accordance with their intentions, will necessarily amount to or involve the commission of a felony or misdemeanor by one or more of the parties to the agreement, the person(s) shall be guilty of criminal agreement, even if the crime in question, was not committed.
2. The penalty of criminal agreement shall be imprisonment for a maximum term of five years, if the penalty of the crime in question was death sentence or life imprisonment.

Unless the law provides otherwise, if the penalty for the crime is less than the foregoing penalty, the penalty for the criminal agreement shall be imprisonment for one-third of the maximum term of imprisonment imposed for the crime, or a fine of no more than one third of the maximum fine imposed.

3. Any person shall be exempted from the penalties prescribed herein, if he promptly notifies the competent authorities of the existence of a criminal agreement and of participants therein, before any felony or misdemeanor is committed as a result of that agreement, and before those authorities have begun to investigate the perpetrators. If the authorities are notified after they have begun their investigations, then he shall not be exempted from the penalty, unless the information leads to the arrest of the perpetrators.

Part Four

Reasons of Permissibility

Article 47

Nothing is a crime if it is done in good faith, in exercising the right-justified by the Law or Islamic Sharia and within the limits thereof.

The following shall be considered as an exercise of right:

- 1- Practicing medicine according to acknowledged scientific principles in the licensed medical professions, with the consent of the patient or his representative, expressly or implicitly, or if the medical procedure is an emergency or the patient is not in a condition to express his will or it is difficult to obtain the consent of his representative in a timely manner.
- 2- Violence during practicing sports within the limits decided for the game, in compliance with the rules of caution.

- 3- The necessary violence to arrest a perpetrator caught flagrante delicto.
- 4- Challenge of litigants against each other during the written or verbal defense in front of the investigating authorities or the courts within the limits that this defense requires.

Article 48

There is no crime if a public officer commits the act in any of the following cases:

- 1- Executing the order of a superior that he must obey, or that he thought was his duty to obey.
- 2- Enforcing the law, or believing in good faith that it is his duty to enforce it.

In all circumstances, the employee must prove that he did not commit the act until he had investigated it and as a result believed that it was legal according to reasonable causes.

Article 49

Nothing is a crime if it is done in the exercise of right of legal defense.

The right of legitimate defense exists when the following conditions are available:

1. When the perpetrator faces a risk arising from a crime against himself, his property or other persons' selves or properties, or if he thought that on reasonable grounds.
2. When the perpetrator is unable to recourse to the public authority at the appropriate time to avoid danger.
3. When the perpetrator has no other way to avoid the danger.
4. When the crime is necessary to face an attack and is proportionate to it.

Article 50

The right of legitimate defense shall not allow intentional killing except to prevent one of the acts below:

- 1- Any act that may reasonably cause the death or grievous hurt will otherwise be the consequence of such assault
- 2- Raping a female forcefully or ravishment of any person by force.
- 3- Kidnapping a person.
- 4- Arson, destruction or theft.
- 5- Entering inhabited houses or annexes thereof at night.

Article 51

Exceeding in good faith the legitimate limits of defense, using more power than that reasonably called for in this situation, without intending to cause more harm than that required for defense. The judge, if the act is a felony, may excuse the person and rules according to the penalty of misdemeanor in place of the penalty stipulated by law, and may consider this an extenuating condition if the act is a misdemeanor.

Article 52

The case of legitimate defense shall exist, even if the person against whom this right is used is not criminally liable, and shall be established according to the provisions of the restraint of liability defined by law.

Part Five

Responsibility Impediments

Article 53

Any child under seven years of age at the time of the crime shall not be punished for his acts.

The procedures set out in the law for juveniles concerning the perpetrator in a felony or a misdemeanor who completed seven years old and under fourteen years old shall apply.

Article 54

A crime shall not be considered as a crime when done by a person who, at the time of committing the crime, in a state of unconsciousness or loss of reason or volition due to insanity or infirmity of mind or because he is in a state of intoxication or under the influence of drugs resulting from the consumption of intoxicating or narcotic substances given to him against his will or without his knowledge or due to any other reason which leads one to believe that he has lost his reason or volition is not criminally liable.

If madness, mental defect, medicines, drugs, alcoholic and intoxicating materials or any other reason that causes only deficiency or weakness in consciousness or in capacity when the crime is committed, it shall be considered an extenuating excuse.

In cases where an act done is not a crime unless done with a particular knowledge or criminal intent, a person who does the act in a state of loss of reason or volition induced by intoxicating or narcotic substances acquired knowingly and of his own free will, shall be punishable for the crime that is committed.

Article 55

Criminal liability shall not be established against any person who:

- 1- Has no ability to select, at the time of committing the act, for a reason beyond his control.
- 2- Commits the crime, beyond his own volition, to protect himself or another person from an extreme imminent danger posing a threat to the person or his possessions.

Both cases are subject to the proviso that the perpetrator is unable to avoid the danger by any other means, and the crime committed must be proportionate to the danger.

Article 56

No person shall be punished for a crime if the harm he committed is so negligible that no person of ordinary sense and temper would complain of such harm.

Part Six

Penalties

Chapter One

Principal Penalties

Article 57<sup>5</sup>

Principal penalties are:

- 1- Death sentence
- 2- Life imprisonment
- 3- Temporary imprisonment
- 4- Fines
- 5- Community service

Article 58

The death sentence shall not be executed except after ratification by the Emir.

Article 59

The death sentence shall be executed by hanging or by gunfire to death.

<sup>5</sup> Replaced pursuant to Law No. 23 of 2009.

Article 60

day, in accordance with the manner and way determined by a decision of the Attorney General.

Chapter Two

Secondary Penalties

Article 64

Secondary penalties are either accessory or complementary.

The penalty is complementary if the law finds it an absolute consequence of the principal penalty.

The penalty is complementary if imposing it is based on the verdict of the judge, whether mandatory or permitted by law.

Article 65

The accessory and complementary penalties are:

- 1- Prevention from some or all rights and privileges set out in Article 66 of this Law.
- 2- Prevention from practicing a profession.
- 3- Dismissal from public positions.
- 4- Exclusion from the place or the public establishment

- 5- Placing under police control
- 6- Confiscation
- 7- Deportation of a foreigner from the country

Article 66

Any judgment of a criminal penalty shall require inevitably and by force of the law the deprivation of the convicted person from all the following rights and privileges:

- 1- Being in charge of a public office or work as a contractor for the State.
- 2- Becoming a member of the legislative, consultative, and municipal councils, boards of directors' committees, public establishments, joint-stock companies, associations, private establishments, and mutual associations, being in charge of the administration of any of them or participating in the election of their members.
- 3- Being in charge, custodianship, guardianship and agency for juveniles and persons considered as such.
- 4- Wearing decorations ribbons and medals whether national or foreign.
- 5- Carrying weapons.

The period of prohibition shall be three years from the date of the completion of the penalty or its earlier termination.

Article 67

If the convicted condemned to a criminal penalty enjoys, when the judgment becomes enforceable, one of the rights stated in the previous article, he shall be prevented from such rights with immediate effect. If he does not enjoy such rights, he loses the capacity of enjoying them thereof.

Article 68

In any judgment whereby a criminal penalty is imposed against a person exercising a self-employed profession organized by law, and which requires the obtaining of a license, a crime perpetrated during the exercise of the activities of the said profession or caused by it and including any violations of the obligations set by the law or the conventional ethics of the profession, the judge may decide to bar the convicted person from exercising his profession for a period not exceeding ten years.

If the judgment imposes imprisonment for a period exceeding seven years, the judge shall decide whether to bar the convicted person from exercising his profession for a period equal to the imposed period of imprisonment.

Article 69

On passing a judgment for a crime with a misdemeanor penalty, the court may decide to prohibit the convicted person from any of the rights or privileges provided under Article 66 hereof, for a period not less than one year and no more than three years as of the date of the completion of the penalty or its earlier termination

Article 70

The Court shall, when passing a judgment against a public officer by a misdemeanor penalty in one of the crimes provided for under chapters one, two and three of part three of book II hereof, rule to order his dismissal for a period not less than one year and no more than three years as of the date of the completion of the penalty or its earlier termination.

Article 71

In addition to the special cases provided for by the law for closure, the court shall order the closure of a place or public establishment where the work is exercised, in either of the two following cases:

- 1- If it decides the prohibition from the exercise of the profession pursuant to Article 68 hereof, the closure shall be for the same period of the prohibition of exercise.
- 2- If it decides a penalty for the exercise of a craft in a public establishment which does not fulfill the conditions required by the law, which may threaten the life of persons, their health or security or to disturb them, the closure shall last until the said conditions are fulfilled.

Article 72

Any person condemned to imprisonment for a period exceeding seven years for a crime against the external or internal security of the State, in a crime of bribery, embezzlement, damage to public funds, forgery of money or government financial bills, arson, possession of explosives or intentional murder, shall be put by virtue of the law, after completing of his penalty, under police probation for a period equivalent to half of the term of his penalty, on the proviso that the police probation shall not exceed five years.

The court, however, may reduce the period of control or exempt the person thereof.

Article 73

Every judgment of condemnation against a recidivist in a crime of forgery, theft, mistrust, fraud or hiding proceeds of a crime or attempted crime may include, in addition to the decided penalty, putting the convicted person under police probation for a period not less than one year and no more than two years.

Article 74

Any person who subject to police probation shall have to comply with the following terms:

- 1- Inform the police station of his domicile and any change thereof; the police station may not approve his residence in the said place if located in the region where the crime was perpetrated; if he has no domicile, the police station shall determine a place where he shall reside.
- 2- Permanently carry a card provided to him by the police station of his area bearing all the specifications about his identity and which he shall submit to the police station upon any request.
- 3- Appear before the police station in his area once a week, at the time set on the card and at any time he is required by the police station to do so.
- 4- To be at his domicile from sunset and sunrise unless he obtains an authorization from the police station allowing him to be absent from his designated domicile during the specified period or part of it.

Article 75

Article 76

The court may, when passing a judgment for a felony or misdemeanor, decide to confiscate seized items resulting from the crime, used or might have been used therein without prejudice to the rights of third parties in good faith.

If the said items belong to a category, including the manufacture, use, possession of or dealing with the items, is considered a crime in itself, a judgment to confiscate shall be passed in all circumstances, even if the said items do not belong to the accused.

Article 77

Without prejudice of the rights of the relevant administrative authorities in deporting any foreigner pursuant to the law, the court may, when it condemns a foreigner to a penalty restrictive of liberty in a felony or misdemeanor, decide to deport him from the State after serving the penalty.

If the judgment for the penalty set out in the previous paragraph is issued for a crime against honor or trust, the court shall decide to deport the foreigner from the State after the completion of the penalty or it being dropped.

Article 78

The court may, in matters of misdemeanors, decide to deport the foreigner from the country instead of condemning him to the penalty identified for the misdemeanor.

Chapter Three

Suspension of Penalty Execution

Article 79

The court, when passing a judgment for a crime punishable by a term of imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year or a fine, may order the suspension of the execution of the penalty if it considers that the morals of the convicted, his past, age or the circumstances in which the crime was perpetrated, to be good reasons to believe that he shall not commit another crime again.

The court may decide that the suspension of the execution shall include any secondary penalty and all the criminal implications except for confiscation.

Article 80

The suspension of the execution of the penalty shall last three years from the day the judgment become definitive. If the said period elapses without a judgment is passed to overturn the suspension of the execution, the judgment imposing the penalty shall be considered not applicable.

Article 81

The suspension of execution may be cancelled in the two following cases:

1- If during the period of suspension, a judgment for imprisonment is passed against the perpetrator for more than three months for an intentional crime perpetrated during or before the said period and the court did not know about it when ordering the suspension of execution.

2- If it appears that a judgment of imprisonment for a period of more than three months for an intentional crime was passed before ordering the suspension of execution and the court did not know about it.

Article 82

The competent court for cancelling the suspension of execution is the court which ordered such suspension or the court which sentenced the perpetrator to imprisonment during the term of suspension. The judgment for annulment of the suspension shall be rendered upon request of the general prosecution or the victim after summoning the perpetrator to appear.

Article 83

The judgment for annulment of the suspension of the execution of the penalty shall result in its execution.

Chapter Four

Multiple Crimes and Penalties

Article 84

Should one act constitute a plurality of crimes, the crime with the most severe penalty shall be taken into consideration and its penalty shall prevail to the exclusion of any other.

Article 85

Should multiple crimes be perpetrated for one purpose bound to each other in an inseparable way, they shall be considered as one crime and a sentence for the most severe penalty provided for any of the crimes shall be passed.

Article 86

The judgment for the most severe penalty for the crime, in the two preceding Articles, shall not prevent the court from applying secondary penalties provided for the other crimes.

Article 87

Should the perpetrator in the case provided for by Article 85 hereof was prosecuted for the crime with the lowest penalty; he shall be prosecuted afterwards for the crime with the most severe penalty.

In this case, the court shall order execution of the penalty set by the last judgment, with a deduction of the part of the previous judgment, which was actually executed.

Article 88

Should a person commit a plurality of crimes before he is sentenced for one of them, and the said crimes do not fulfill the conditions provided under Articles 84 and 85 hereof, he shall be guilty for the penalty set for each of them, and all the ordered penalties shall apply to him successively, provided that the total executed periods of the judgments issued for a penalty of imprisonment for a crime or misdemeanor together no more than twenty years, and provided that the total periods of the executed judgments passed for a penalty of imprisonment for misdemeanors shall not exceed ten years.

The felony penalty shall be replaced for its period by any penalty restrictive of liberty for any crime, which was perpetrated before the passing of the judgment for a penalty of the said felony.

Article 89

Death penalty shall replace all other penalties except fine and confiscation.

Article 90

Fines and secondary penalties shall be executed whatever their number, provided that the total periods of police probation shall not exceed five years.

Part Seven

Legal Excuses and Discretionary Conditions

Article 91

The law states the reasons for an exemption from a penalty and for the imposition of a lesser penalty

Article 92

If the court considers, when reviewing a felony that the circumstances of the crime or of the perpetrator require mercy, it may reduce the penalty provided for the said crime as follows:

- 1- If the penalty for the crime is death penalty, it may be reduced to life imprisonment or imprisonment for a period of no less than five years.

2- If the penalty for the felony is life imprisonment, it may be reduced to imprisonment for a period of no less than three years.

3- If the penalty provided for the felony is imprisonment for a period not exceeding twenty years, it may be reduced to imprisonment for a period of no less than one year.

The provisions of this Article shall not apply when passing a judgment for a terrorist crime.

Article 93

Should the court consider, when sentencing for a misdemeanor that the circumstances of the crime or the perpetrator require mercy, it may reduce the penalty as follows:

1- If there is a minimum limit for the penalty, the court may not comply therewith.

2- If the penalty is imprisonment and a fine together, the court shall impose one of them only.

3- If the punishment is imprisonment without a minimum term limit, the court may apply a fine of no more than five thousand Riyals (QR 5,000) in lieu of that.

Article 94

The law states the effect of aggravating circumstances on the penalty provided for the crime.

Article 95

Any one of the following cases shall be considered recidivist:

- 1- Any person who against whom a final judgment bearing a felony penalty was previously issued and then it is established that he perpetrated a subsequent felony or a misdemeanor.
- 2- Any person who against whom a final judgment bearing a misdemeanor penalty was previously issued for a crime of forgery, theft, breach of trust, trickery, receiving stolen goods or items or proceeds resulting from a crime, or commencement of any such crime he/she perpetrated, then subsequently perpetrated within five years from the judgment one of the said crimes or attempted any of them.

The court may sentence the recidivist to more than the maximum limit stipulated by the law for the crime provided that double of the said limit shall not be exceeded and that the term of imprisonment shall not exceed twenty years.

Article 96

If the recidivist was previously condemned to two penalties restrictive of liberty, both for a period of one year at least or three penalties restrictive of liberty one of which for at least one year, for theft, fraud, breach of trust, forgery, receiving crime proceeds or the attempt of any such crimes, then it was established that he subsequently perpetrated one of the said crimes or attempted the same, on which he was sentenced after he was convicted for the last of the said penalties, the court may issue a judgment imposing imprisonment for a period of less than three years and no more than seven years.

Article 97

Should aggravated circumstances be combined with extenuating excuses or circumstances in one crime, the court shall apply first the aggravating circumstances then the extenuating excuses, then the extenuating circumstances. However, if the aggravating circumstances and the aggravating excuses have different effects, the court may apply the most severe of them.

Article 143

The punishment of imprisonment for a period not exceeding three years and a fine of no more than fifteen thousand Qatar Riyals (QR 15,000) shall apply to:

- 1- Any person who receives money or a benefit pretending that it is bribery for an officer, while he intends to keep it or part of it for himself.
- 2- Any person who receives money or profit while knowing its purpose even if the officer intended to receive the bribery did not appoint him or did not know about him, provided that he is not an intermediary in the bribery.

Article 144

If the purpose of the bribery is to commit a crime punishable by the law with a punishment more severe than the one provided for under bribery, the set punishment with the fine provided under Article 140 hereof shall apply to the briber, the bribed and the intermediary.

The briber or the intermediary shall be exempted from the punishment if he informs the relevant authorities about the crime and the provided information leads to the arrest of any of the perpetrators.

Article 145

The punishment of imprisonment for a period not exceeding five years and a fine of no more than fifteen thousand Qatari Riyals (QR 15,000) shall apply to any person who offers a bribe to a public officer as declined.

Article 145 (Bis)

Any Foreign Public Officer or Officer in an International Public Establishment who commits any of the acts provided for in Article (140), (142), and (144) hereof, or has committed the crime with the intent of conducting international business shall be liable to the same penalties provided for in the mentioned Articles.

Any person who commits or has been an intermediary in the acts provided for in Articles (141), (143), (144), (145) hereof, shall be liable to the same penalties set out in the mentioned Articles, if it is related to Foreign Public Officer or an Officer in an International Public Establishment.

The briber or the intermediary shall be exempted from the penalty in case that he informs the concerned authorities of the crime or admits it before the detection thereof, even after its completion.

In case reporting has taken place after the investigation, he shall not be exempted from the penalty, except it has actually led to the apprehension of any of the perpetrators.

The court may mitigate the penalty in case the accused has provided a substantial cooperation in the investigation and pursuit procedures.

Article 145 (Bis/1)

Whoever requests or accepts, for himself or for the other, a promise to get money or a benefit to make use of a real or purported influence to get or the attempt to get businesses, orders, terms, decisions, or any obligations of any kind from any authority or a public or a governmental body, shall be regarded as a bribe receiver, and shall be liable to the same penalty provided for in Article (140) hereof.

Whoever commits or has been an intermediate in the acts provided for in Articles (141), (143), (144), (145), in exchange for the commission of a public officer or any other person of any of the acts set out in the preceding paragraph shall be liable to the same penalties provided for in the mentioned Articles hereof.

The bribe receiver or the intermediate shall only be exempted from the penalty if he informs the concerned authorities of the crime or admits it before the detection thereof, even after the completion thereof.

In case reporting has taken place after the investigation, he shall not be exempted from the penalty, except reporting has actually led to the apprehension of any of the perpetrators.

The court may mitigate the penalty in case the accused has provided a substantial cooperation in the investigation and pursuit procedures.

Article 146

Any employee who requires, for his benefit or for that of another party, money or a benefit or a promise of something in return without the knowledge of his employer and his consent, to undertake any of the duties assigned to him or abstain from so doing, shall be considered a receiver of a bribe and shall be liable on conviction to a punishment of imprisonment for a period not exceeding three years and a fine of no more than fifteen thousand Riyals (QR 15,000) or either of the two penalties.

Article 147

In addition to the penalties stipulated in this chapter, the confiscation of what the briber or the intermediary offered shall be considered.

The perpetrator shall also be dismissed from public office and a fine equal to the amount of the bribe.

Chapter Two
